

KUMAR FIBERGLASS INSTRUMENTS

Don't settle for wood. Fiberglass instruments are stronger, incredibly durable, outstandingly resonant, and lightweight. They are the perfect option for students, hobbyists, and professionals alike. Stop worrying about the fragile, old, brittle instrument made in the world of your great-great-great grandfather. With a fiberglass cello, you can rest assured that you will be prepared for your next show no matter where it is. Board a plane once more with the confidence and peace of mind that comes with knowing that your cello is safe and sound. With a cello made at the hands of a Kumar Fiberglass Instruments luthier, you will be pleasantly surprised to be playing the cello of tomorrow. Every cello is handmade (painstakingly...it takes ten months) with the highest quality materials sourced only from local boat stores run by affable men named Joe. At www.saurabhkumaremc.weebly.com you can order your personalized cello today. Now that should be music to your ears. ✕
